Ode for a Social Meeting.

Come, fill a fresh bumper-for why should we go While the nectar still reddens our cups as they flow? Pour out the rich juices still bright with the sun, Till o'er the brimmed crystal the rubies shall run. The purple globed clusters their life-dews have bled; How sweet is the breath of the fragrance they shed ! For Summer's last roses lie hid in the wines. That were garnered by maidens who laughed through the

Then a smile, and a glass, and a toast, and a cheer, For all the good wine and we've some of it here! In cellar, in pontry, in attic, in hall, Long live the gay servant that laughs for us all ! "

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES

Come, fill a fresh bumper-for why should we go While the logwood still reddens our cups as they flow? Pour out the decortion still bright with the sun. Till o'er the brimmed crystal the dye-stoff shall run. The half-ripened apples their life-dews have bled ; How sweet is the taste of the sugar of lead ! For Summer's rank poisons lie hid in the wines !!! That were garnered by stable-boys smoking long nines. Then a snowl, and a howl, and a scoff, and a sneer, For strychnine and whiskey, and ratsbane and beer ! In cellar, in puntry, in attic in hall,

Down, down with the tyrant that masters us all !
